Yes
Greet the customer and giving self introduction. Also mention the purpose of the call.
Ask further probing questions. for eg. If they do trading or have past experience. Accordingly, give a introduction of the platform benefits.
Customer is intrested
Customer is not interested
Probe the customer to identify him and pitch accordingly about the platform benefits
Customer is saying he will check it later
Probe the customer for the follow up time and also create urgency for the customer to start as soon as possible.
Customer is still adamant
Acknowledge the customer and also share the information with customer. Probe him for preferred time to call him back for follow up. Schedule the same in CRM along with call description.
Probe the customer to ask for the reason why they don't want to the start trading.
Personal reason/ Previous Loss/ Charges/Taxes
Financial Reason/ Money problem
Share the platform's zero brokerage, negative balance protection benefits, and guidance customers can get on our platform through premium channels.
Tell the customer that they can start with minimum funds of 500 on our platform or they can at least activate their account on our platform by depositing and withdraw of the amount. / Probe the customer when can soon can he arrange the funds and make an urgency for the customer by saying that these are limited period offers.
Customer is prospect
Further try to convince the customer and try to create FOMO for customer to start trading. If customer is saying he will check it later and asked for details. Exchange the details with customer and also probe the customer to ask for their name and email address. Moreover, ask for preferred time to call back and schedule the call in CRM along with call description without fail.
Note down the call description, Last call result, Last call made on and follow up status (if changed) in CRM correctly. Ensure to use the shared format only and without any abbreviations.
Schedule any follow up call (if any) and make sure to call back the user on the preferred time.
